The police have recovered the tools stolen from the Eccles planing mill, and as a result a man named Richmond, a dealer in second-hand goods on Twenty-fifth street, has been arrested, charged with receiving stolen property. The suspect, M. A. Conley, who was arrested on the charge of having burglarized the mill, confessed his guilt and told how he had sold the booty to Richmond; that Richmond knew that the stuff was stolen and advised him to clear out, as the police were on to him. Detective Pender called upon Richmond, but the latter denied that he had received any such property as that described, but when confronted with Conley's confession gave up the goods. The

Mrs. George Stoddard was seriously injured at the corner of Twenty-fifth street and Washington avenue this morning, the result of being knocked down by a runaway horse. The animal came furlously down the Twenty-fifth street hill and turned upon the sidewalk, knocking Mrs. Stoddard to the pavement. She was rendered unconscious and was immediately carried to Knoth's drug store and Dr. Rich called, who dressed her injuries. She was beeding from the ears, but her injuries are not thought to be fatal. The horse belonged to John Marshall of Hooper, but had been borrowed by a friend, who drove it to his home at the noon hour. He tied the animal to a hay rack and it broke away, dashing down Twenty-fifth street and demolishing the buggy.

The store of C Jensen was held up that evening by two masked robbers, who looted the cash drawer of 514 in cash and a check for 512. The store is located at 2505 Washington avenue and Mrs. Ida Jensen, wife of the proprietor, was alone in the store at the time. Two young men entered, both masked, and pulling guns, ordered the woman to throw up her hands. She demurred, and the robbers evidently fearing that the woman was going to become obstreserous, and they being afraid to shoot, one of them rushed to the telephone and Jerked the wire loose from the wall to prevent her sending in an alarm.
